

Cotton at a Glance

LDC sources cotton from all major producers and serves all key consumer markets globally, while working proactively toward an increasingly sustainable cotton value chain.

We originate in areas such as China, Brazil, West Africa, Australia, the US, India and Mexico, supported by a large network of logistic, merchandizing and marketing facilities, and leveraging extensive market analysis and research capabilities.

Operating in over 50 countries, we continue to expand our presence through investments to enhance and develop our origination, logistic and merchandizing activities. Combined with the flexibility to provide 'just in time' inventory services, these investments enable our Cotton Platform to deliver added value for customers around the world, despite a highly challenging supply environment. The Platform also has extensive domestic operations in the US and Brazil, and is rapidly expanding its domestic operations in China and India.

As part of our leading position in major origination markets, we support and promote programs that encourage conservation of resources and improve production practices, notably through the Better Cotton Initiative, helping to meet global demand for cotton in a sustainable and responsible way.
