

Trading & Shipping Internship Programme

It's time to look towards your future

Today's growing world demands more energy, in new ways, with fewer emissions. As a global energy business, we're working towards meeting this challenge – producing lower-carbon energy in a safe and sustainable way. Our aim is to reimagine energy for people and our planet.

We are in a period of exciting transformation and trading & shipping plays an integral role in reaching net zero and changing the world of energy.

About the opportunity:

We have multiple opportunities for individuals to spend 12 months (full-time) in our market analytics team (commencing between Jul-Sep 2021). During this time, you will primarily support analysis work for short to long-term market fundamentals, with a strong focus on ship tracking, which is one of the pillars of trading fundamental analysis.

Applications close 28 February 2021
