Lendlease Digital 2021 Graduate Program

Innovate and make a difference to the world with technology.

About Lendlease

Lendlease is a global leader within property and construction, headquartered in Australia, with operations in Asia, the Americas and Europe.

Every day, people around the world live, work, shop, play or travel via an asset created by Lendlease. We are responsible for renowned developments around the globe, including Paya Lebar Quarter and 313 Somerset in Singapore, and a $21 billion district development for Google in the San Francisco Bay area.

Lendlease Digital

Lendlease Digital is building a software platform called Podium that will transform and disrupt the global property and construction industry. We have a vision for a world which is sustainable and designed for the wellness and connectivity of people. Autonomous cars? Now is the time for autonomous buildings. Yes, we are that ambitious!

We believe digital is not just about technology, people or process – it's about all three. Our core philosophy is "digital before physical, share data, not files, fully simulated and tested before manufacture and assembly (not construct)." As a team, we are innovative, brave, and continually learn and try new ways of doing things.

Our Graduate Program

The Lendlease Graduate Program is a two-year talent developmental program which includes two or more rotations that combine on-the-job learning with formal training opportunities across our businesses. You will become part of a diverse team-based environment and be supported through a structured learning and development program, networking and mentoring – allowing you to learn from both senior leaders and fellow graduates while forging lasting connections.

- Minimum 2 rotations across projects or roles

- Learning programs to build upon your professional and technical skills

- Networking opportunities across business units with Graduates and Leaders

- Support structure consisting of Manager, Buddy, Mentor and Graduate Program Team

With the launch of our Product Development Centre (PDC) in Singapore, the Digital stream offers graduates the opportunity to thrive and grow in a dynamic global environment with a start-up mentality. This is an opportunity to step into the latest technologies with the full training and support of a team passionate about digital innovation and its role in bringing autonomous buildings to life.

If you have the drive and talent to progress, Lendlease is a place you'll connect to a range of international opportunities in a culture of excellence where you'll matter.
